

LOCAL NEWS

J. N. BARTHOLOMW, Local Editor.

From and after this date, we propose to REDUCE THE PRICE OF ALL JOBS WORK twenty-five per cent. We do the fastest work, and at low rates, as can be done anywhere, and we mean to do it. Bring your Blue Job Work to THE DAILY HERALD OFFICE, corner Elm and Houston streets.

Horse flies.

Yellow jackets.

CHICKEN snakes.

CONTINUOUS high wind.

JUDGE HAMIL will open the criminal docket on Monday.

ABOUT one thousand laborers, of all colors and all trades, can turn human flesh or peony or two, or three or dozen of them in this city, now.

ANTOINE is putting up a commissary and an exceedingly ornamental building for a saloon and restaurant adjoining the new market.

FARMERS in Dallas County object to hunters killing partridges, as they have discovered that this bird eats up the worms and bugs which are destructive to their crops.

A MEXICAN, formerly a musician in the Bank saloon, on Jefferson street, was run over, night before last, while lying on the Texas Central Railroad track, and had his right arm cut off.

WHITE breakfasting at his boarding home yesterday, a man named Plummer had his watch guard cut, and a two hundred dollar chronometer abstracted from his vest pocket. That's a nice way to take up another man's time.

A BRANCH of roughs stepped off the cars of the up train, yesterday, and entered into a "bill" on the platform. The sudden starting of the train brought the exercise to a speedy termination, as they were both bound northward.

A WOMAN, appalled in a heavy wooden dress and furs, crossed Commerce street, yesterday, in company with a policeman. It was supposed by many that she was crazy, and if not, she continues to wear that kind of wardrobe this kind of weather, it won't be long before she is.

BUDGET MAHONEY wore out several succulent kickups on her obstreperous junior yesterday, up on the railroad. A few hours afterwards as Madeline Mahoney was "sated" by the door in the "cool of the avenin," the brooding wrath of her Patsy lighted on her head in a bucket of "cowdil water," and the young gentleman instantly "exited," and has not been heard of since.

A DAFFODIL father told his son the truth to always aim high in life. The next day, the father had occasion to go up on the roof of the house to repair a leak, when the son came along with his bow and arrows, and observing the old gentleman, he let alarum him.

"What are you doing that for, you graceless scamp?"

"Keep steady dad, I won't mind, I am just aiming high in life!"

To our country and city friends we respectfully announce, that we have a large and well-secured retail stock, and being anxious to sell, think that they will advance their interests by giving us a call.

22-23-24 DOWNS & CO.

BETWEEN a Miss What-you-may-call-her, and a Miss What-you-may-not-call-her, both living on Euclid Avenue, there has been a sharp estrangement of several weeks duration. It was a man or woman. Yesterday, about 8 o'clock, they both repaired to a grove hard by their residences and concluded to fight it out. They fell into a conversation, however, upon the style of a dress which they discovered lady wear, who passed them on their way to the "dark and bloody ground," and before they knew it had actually turned completely around from the direction of the battle-field and found themselves in the vicinity of their homes, where they both parted, declaring they had "never seen such a swell of love at a dress-fight in all their lives."

18-19-20 JUNIOR.

On and after to-day, groceries will be sold on the up down drawn to the 22-23-24 DOWNS & CO.

Don't ruin your eyes by using glasses not suited to them. We refer our readers to the card of J. W. Webb, Optician and Watchmaker, in to-day's paper, and avise every one making spectacles to try his celebrated Peepers Glass. Mr. Webb is a practical Optician, and can suit your eyes exactly. He is also a practical Watchmaker, and all his work and goods are warranted to give satisfaction or money refunded.

All whoresons J. D. DOWNS & CO., for specific accounts, will please settle up immediately as we are never much in need of our money.

22-23-24 DOWNS & CO.

PROBABLE FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Young Man Falls or Attends to a Dangerous Train and Receives serious Injury.

Mr. John Rice, who has been residing in this place some seven or eight months, and most of the time in the employ of the Central railroad company, was found on the railroad track near Miller station, yesterday, with his head laying on the track, nearly insensible. The night train came very near running over him, but he was discovered in time. He was perfectly insensible when found, and his skull was broken two or three inches, and his right side paralyzed. He had left home, in the 1500 A. M. train, bound south, with the intention of meeting and returning on the up train, and it is supposed that he must have fallen on his way to jump off, and thereby received the injuries. He was brought to the city by the up train, yesterday morning, and taken to the residence of Mr. John J. Palkins, where he was boarding, and has remained perfectly insensible since he was found, with no hope of his recovery.

We have a line of Irish Potions which we offer for sale one dollar, entries, per bottle. Come and see us.

DALEYS DRUGGISTS, 210 S. W. 18th Street, opposite the College.

White using no white Liver Hills, no white meat or drink as soon. They are surely vegetables.

The DAILY HERALD is the latest paper in North Texas, and by long odds the largest circulation, and consequently the best medium of advertising. Merchants and others should make a note of this.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

The Great Day at Terrell.
The Monday last, the 30th ult., we were one of a gay party of ladies and gentlemen who went out to the new town of Terrell, the present terminus of the Texas and Pacific railroad. At 8:30 A. M. the excursion train, consisting of three flat cars temporarily fitted with awnings, and a box car filled with "commissary stores," backed up to the corner of Pacific avenue and Lamar street, and was soon comfortably filled with passengers bound for the "Land of Promise." At the main depot at the crossing of the Central road, more passengers came on board, and at a quarter before nine we were careering over the prairies behind the iron horses. Among those on board, we may enumerate Captain S. J. Adams, Judge John J. Good and lady, Captain G. M. Swink and daughters, Captain Wm. P. Smith, agent for the sale of lots, and under whose auspices the excursion was gotten up, Major J. M. Brown, of the Texas Pacific railway, Hibbler, the auctioneer who was to be the "order of the day," and many other ladies and gentlemen, whose names now escape my memory. The day was delightfully fair and pleasant, a fine breeze blowing from the South-west.

ANTOINE is putting up a commissary and an exceedingly ornamental building for a saloon and restaurant adjoining the new market.

FARMERS in Dallas County object to hunters killing partridges, as they have discovered that this bird eats up the worms and bugs which are destructive to their crops.

A MEXICAN, formerly a musician in the Bank saloon, on Jefferson street, was run over, night before last, while lying on the Texas Central Railroad track, and had his right arm cut off.

WHITE breakfasting at his boarding home yesterday, a man named Plummer had his watch guard cut, and a two hundred dollar chronometer abstracted from his vest pocket. That's a nice way to take up another man's time.

A BRANCH of roughs stepped off the cars of the up train, yesterday, and entered into a "bill" on the platform. The sudden starting of the train brought the exercise to a speedy termination, as they were both bound northward.

A WOMAN, appalled in a heavy wooden dress and furs, crossed Commerce street, yesterday, in company with a policeman. It was supposed by many that she was crazy, and if not, she continues to wear that kind of wardrobe this kind of weather, it won't be long before she is.

BUDGET MAHONEY wore out several succulent kickups on her obstreperous junior yesterday, up on the railroad. A few hours afterwards as Madeline Mahoney was "sated" by the door in the "cool of the avenin," the brooding wrath of her Patsy lighted on her head in a bucket of "cowdil water," and the young gentleman instantly "exited," and has not been heard of since.

A DAFFODIL father told his son the truth to always aim high in life. The next day, the father had occasion to go up on the roof of the house to repair a leak, when the son came along with his bow and arrows, and observing the old gentleman, he let alarum him.

"What are you doing that for, you graceless scamp?"

"Keep steady dad, I won't mind, I am just aiming high in life!"

To our country and city friends we respectfully announce, that we have a large and well-secured retail stock, and being anxious to sell, think that they will advance their interests by giving us a call.

22-23-24 DOWNS & CO.

BETWEEN a Miss What-you-may-call-her, and a Miss What-you-may-not-call-her, both living on Euclid Avenue, there has been a sharp estrangement of several weeks duration. It was a man or woman. Yesterday, about 8 o'clock, they both repaired to a grove hard by their residences and concluded to fight it out. They fell into a conversation, however, upon the style of a dress which they discovered lady wear, who passed them on their way to the "dark and bloody ground," and before they knew it had actually turned completely around from the direction of the battle-field and found themselves in the vicinity of their homes, where they both parted, declaring they had "never seen such a swell of love at a dress-fight in all their lives."

18-19-20 JUNIOR.

On and after to-day, groceries will be sold on the up down drawn to the 22-23-24 DOWNS & CO.

PROBABLE FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Young Man Falls or Attends to a Dangerous Train and Receives serious Injury.

Mr. John Rice, who has been residing in this place some seven or eight months, and most of the time in the employ of the Central railroad company, was found on the railroad track near Miller station, yesterday, with his head laying on the track, nearly insensible. The night train came very near running over him, but he was discovered in time. He was perfectly insensible when found, and his skull was broken two or three inches, and his right side paralyzed. He had left home, in the 1500 A. M. train, bound south, with the intention of meeting and returning on the up train, and it is supposed that he must have fallen on his way to jump off, and thereby received the injuries. He was brought to the city by the up train, yesterday morning, and taken to the residence of Mr. John J. Palkins, where he was boarding, and has remained perfectly insensible since he was found, with no hope of his recovery.

We have a line of Irish Potions which we offer for sale one dollar, entries, per bottle. Come and see us.

DALEYS DRUGGISTS, 210 S. W. 18th Street, opposite the College.

White using no white Liver Hills, no white meat or drink as soon. They are surely vegetables.

The DAILY HERALD is the latest paper in North Texas, and by long odds the largest circulation, and consequently the best medium of advertising. Merchants and others should make a note of this.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

New Orleans, July 2.—The Evening Herald has the following: For several days past the Indians have been raiding the New Mexican division as said, possibly here has been expected. The line can leave the Rio Grande valley above here, by an easy grade not to exceed fifty feet to the mile, after which, by a winding tangent of more than fifty miles length, it passes between the Florida and Cook's range of mountains. The distance of the continent, on grades, is less than twice as great as the distance as the straight line. The summit is but 4,500 feet above sea level, and only one-half as high as the summit of the Union Pacific. Thence the grade is down into the Gila river, which, when struck, is 400 feet below this place. Water can be had from wells and springs, at not inconvenient distances.

The portion of the line is covered with excellent grass, and will soon team with herds of cattle and sheep. The Gila valley is broad and rich, and at least eighty square miles of the richest farmlands in Arizona may be had in that portion above Mount Tompkins, where the canon commences. This land is now open to settlement, and a large acreage of the valley, through the use of the irrigation system, will be irrigated through a wad of tall grass, behind which is an open field. Near by, and on the line of the railroad, is a small cottage, occupied by a family. But with this exception, there are no residents nearer than three-quarters of a mile. This difficulty is one of the sad results of the iniquitous Hawley trial, in which the Indians were not allowed to argue in, and so it has easily turned out. To-day the parties left in the Mobile train of 8 A. M., arriving at Montgomery Station about 10 A. M., where the party disbands, barked. Montgomery Station, where the duel occurred, is a wild, sandy place, some four or five miles this side of the Red River, and the camp of the Indians, through which the trail passes, is a long, open field. The Indians, who are numerous, have been scattered through the country, and the trail is now before our readers. Judge Cooley then addressed a communication to the editor, calling for explanations, which not being accorded, he followed up with a pointed speech, in which he called upon the editor to make forth an attack upon that paper which carried forth an editorial in its last issue, pronouncing them false.

Judge Cooley then addressed a communication to the editor, calling for explanations, which not being accorded, he followed up with a pointed speech, in which he called upon the editor to make forth an attack upon that paper which carried forth an editorial in its last issue, pronouncing them false.

This party of explorers has been in the hill country since last June, except a month, commencing at Christmas, and all have experienced no inconvenience. Indeed, in March the whole party were working, or voluntarily working in the waters of the Gila, and the trees were in full leaf.

The Indians have harassed his labors and have left the field, most of them going by way of Marfa to their homes in the east. Except one man drowned in the Rio Grande in July, not a man has been sick or received a mortal injury since his return.

This party of explorers has been in the hill country since last June, except a month, commencing at Christmas, and all have experienced no inconvenience. Indeed, in March the whole party were working, or voluntarily working in the waters of the Gila, and the trees were in full leaf.

The Indians have harassed his labors and have left the field, most of them going by way of Marfa to their homes in the east. Except one man drowned in the Rio Grande in July, not a man has been sick or received a mortal injury since his return.

This party of explorers has been in the hill country since last June, except a month, commencing at Christmas, and all have experienced no inconvenience. Indeed, in March the whole party were working, or voluntarily working in the waters of the Gila, and the trees were in full leaf.

The Indians have harassed his labors and have left the field, most of them going by way of Marfa to their homes in the east. Except one man drowned in the Rio Grande in July, not a man has been sick or received a mortal injury since his return.

This party of explorers has been in the hill country since last June, except a month, commencing at Christmas, and all have experienced no inconvenience. Indeed, in March the whole party were working, or voluntarily working in the waters of the Gila, and the trees were in full leaf.

The Indians have harassed his labors and have left the field, most of them going by way of Marfa to their homes in the east. Except one man drowned in the Rio Grande in July, not a man has been sick or received a mortal injury since his return.

This party of explorers has been in the hill country since last June, except a month, commencing at Christmas, and all have experienced no inconvenience. Indeed, in March the whole party were working, or voluntarily working in the waters of the Gila, and the trees were in full leaf.

The Indians have harassed his labors and have left the field, most of them going by way of Marfa to their homes in the east. Except one man drowned in the Rio Grande in July, not a man has been sick or received a mortal injury since his return.

This party of explorers has been in the hill country since last June, except a month, commencing at Christmas, and all have experienced no inconvenience. Indeed, in March the whole party were working, or voluntarily working in the waters of the Gila, and the trees were in full leaf.

The Indians have harassed his labors and have left the field, most of them going by way of Marfa to their homes in the east. Except one man drowned in the Rio Grande in July, not a man has been sick or received a mortal injury since his return.

This party of explorers has been in the hill country since last June, except a month, commencing at Christmas, and all have experienced no inconvenience. Indeed, in March the whole party were working, or voluntarily working in the waters of the Gila, and the trees were in full leaf.

The Indians have harassed his labors and have left the field, most of them going by way of Marfa to their homes in the east. Except one man drowned in the Rio Grande in July, not a man has been sick or received a mortal injury since his return.

This party of explorers has been in the hill country since last June, except a month, commencing at Christmas, and all have experienced no inconvenience. Indeed, in March the whole party were working, or voluntarily working in the waters of the Gila, and the trees were in full leaf.

The Indians have harassed his labors and have left the field, most of them going by way of Marfa to their homes in the east. Except one man drowned in the Rio Grande in July, not a man has been sick or received a mortal injury since his return.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

New Orleans, July 2.—The Evening Herald has the following: For several days past the Indians have been raiding the New Mexican division as said, possibly here has been expected. The line can leave the Rio Grande valley above here, by an easy grade not to exceed fifty feet to the mile, after which, by a winding tangent of more than fifty miles length, it passes between the Florida and Cook's range of mountains. The distance of the continent, on grades, is less than twice as great as the straight line.

This party of explorers has been in the hill country since last June, except a month, commencing at Christmas, and all have experienced no inconvenience. Indeed, in March the whole party were working, or voluntarily working in the waters of the Gila, and the trees were in full leaf.

The Indians have harassed his labors and have left the field, most of them going by way of Marfa to their homes in the east. Except one man drowned in the Rio Grande in July, not a man has been sick or received a mortal injury since his return.

This party of explorers has been in the hill country since last June, except a month, commencing at Christmas, and all have experienced no inconvenience. Indeed, in March the whole party were working, or voluntarily working in the waters of the Gila, and the trees were in full leaf.

The Indians have harassed his labors and have left the field, most of them going by way of Marfa to their homes in the east. Except one man drowned in the Rio Grande in July, not a man has been sick or received a mortal injury since his return.

This party of explorers has been in the hill country since last June, except a month, commencing at Christmas, and all have experienced no inconvenience. Indeed, in March the whole party were working, or voluntarily working in the waters of the Gila, and the trees were in full leaf.

The Indians have harassed his labors and have left the field, most of them going by way of Marfa to their homes in the east. Except one man drowned in the Rio Grande in July, not a man has been sick or received a mortal injury since his return.

This party of explorers has been in the hill country since last June, except a month, commencing at Christmas, and all have experienced no inconvenience. Indeed, in March the whole party were working, or voluntarily working in the waters of the Gila, and the trees were in full leaf.

The Indians have harassed his labors and have left the field, most of them going by way of Marfa to their homes in the east. Except one man drowned in the Rio Grande in July, not a man has been sick or received a mortal injury since his return.

This party of explorers has been in the hill country since last June, except a month, commencing at Christmas, and all have experienced no inconvenience. Indeed, in March the whole party were working, or voluntarily working in the waters of the Gila, and the trees were in full leaf.

The Indians have harassed his labors and have left the field, most of them going by way of Marfa to their homes in the east. Except one man drowned in the Rio Grande in July, not a man has been sick or received a mortal injury since his return.